IPL MATCH

The entire capital revealed its exuberance for the IPL thrills at the Shaheed Veer Naravan Singh International Stadium, Naya Raipur. Kalinga University had an obvious reason to be part of IPL matches as well. Seventy students were volunteers from 9 -12 May 2015 at the stadium's protocol section and they were selected via the open volunteer programme organised by the Delhi Daredevils. Working Protocol as the Operation Manager and escorting highprofile guests and dignitaries, our students had developed a bent for cricket matches by watching them live at the stadium. It was very hectic but fun too. Also, as college, classes, studies was turning monotonous, this came by as an exciting break. Besides the extra money, it's a glamorous extravaganza, where they got to interact with high-profile guests. It was too great interacting with them. The role of volunteers was divided into five areas: spectator services, venue and workforce operations, media centre, transportation and accommodation of athletes, and the protocol area which manages high-profile guests, politicians and industrialists. Two faculties of Kalinga, Ms. Tripti Verma and Mr. Sanjeev Yadav were the volunteer coordinators. Besides being paid Rs. 150 per match and Rs. 250 for refreshments every day, the volunteers have been given kits which consists of a Delhi Daredevils T-shirt, cap, track pants, backpack and a utility bag.

All the students exclaimed very enthusiastically that the experience gained here has helped them to develop their skills and they would love to take up event management as a part time career. Mr. Manav commented on face book that Kalinga's team was the best volunteer he had ever seen.
